Welcome Will Await Our New Bishop When He Arrives Here.

Diocesan Clergy Make Preliminary Arrangements For Reception.

Enthronization Will Be Followed by Banquet For Prelate.

LAITY WILL ALSO PARTICIPATE

The preliminary steps toward welcoming the Right Rev. Denis O'Donoghue, the new Bishop of Louisville, were taken on Tuesday morning, when practically every pastor in the diocese and many of the assistant priests assembled in St. Francis Hall, in the basement of the Cathedral, The Very Rev. Administrator Father James P. Cronin called the meeting of the clergy to order at 10 o'clock and the meeting continued until shortly after noon. To epitomize: Bishop O'Donoghue will be enthroned on Wednesday, March 30.

All the priests in the diocese that can conveniently do so will go to Indianapolis to escort Bishop O'Donoghue to Louisville.

The Governor of Kentucky and Mayor of Louisville will be invited to take part in welcoming the new Bishop.

The ceremony of enthronization will be followed by a banquet given by the clergy for the Bishop and the clergy.

The clergy will present the new Bishop with a complete set of episcopal robes in three colors.

The reception for the laity is yet to be arranged.

When the Very Rev. James P. Cronin called the meeting to order he looked down upon men who were spiritual advisers from nearly every parish in the diocese, and besides the secular priests the regular orders were represented. The Right Rev. Edmund Obrecht, Abbot of Gethsemane, represented the Cistercians; Very Rev. Father J. R. Clark, the Dominicans; Very Rev. Jerome Preisser, the Black Franciscans; Very Rev. Father Richard Wuerth, the Brown Franciscans; Very Rev. Father Daniel, the Passionists; Rev. Brother James, the Xaverian Brothers—in fact all of the religious orders of men were represented by one or more priests or brothers.

After the meeting had been called to order Father Cronin stated its object—to arrange to welcome Bishop O'Donoghue in a fitting manner to his new diocese. He stated that he had gone to Indianapolis on Thursday of last week to discuss matters with the new Bishop and upon the latter's invitation. Father Cronin said that a new set of episcopal vestments, in three colors, were necessary and becoming to the dignity of the new prelate, and that knowing the generosity of the Louisville clergy, he had ordered such an outfit to cost $1,000. This action of Father Cronin was unanimously indorsed by the assembled clergy.

The Very Rev. Dr. George W. Schumann was elected Secretary of the meeting, and after that motion followed motion and amendment followed amendment until the Reverend Secretary could cry out with Richard III., "One word doth tread upon another's heels."

So fast they follow.

And yet it was not a time of woe. Those assembled were merely trying to arrange a genuine Kentucky welcome for the new shepherd of this historic folk.

The Very Rev. E. M. Bachmann suggested and then offered a motion that a Pullman car be chartered that a committee of clergy might escort the new Bishop from Indianapolis to Louisville. It was later decided to charter a train for this purpose. Among those who took part in the general discussion of matters were the Very Rev. P. M. J. Rock, rector of the Cathedral; Revs. J. T. O'Connor, Patrick Walsh, Andrew Zoeller, Thomas W. White, Thomas A. York, John H. Riley, of Shelbyville; William Gausepohl, John B. Pfeiffer, James J. Conniff, William Hogarty, of New Haven; Joseph Hogarty, of Lebanon; J. B. Clark, O. P.; Thomas J. Jenkins, of New Hope; L. B. Ford, of St. Patrick's; and John Harding, of Preston Park Seminary.

Father Rock made a brief but a very impressive talk in favor of giving Bishop O'Donoghue a genuine Kentucky welcome. If the clergy did their part, he said, the laity would do likewise, and our dissenting brethren would see how a Catholic Bishop is esteemed. He suggested that Gov. Willson and Mayor W. O. Head be invited to welcome Bishop O'Donoghue. Father Rock's recommendations met hearty approval, and the Chairman, Very Rev. Father Cronin, was authorized to appoint a committee to charter a train and to arrange for the necessary carriages. Father Cronin was also empowered to appoint a special escort committee of clergy to go to Indianapolis to bring the new Bishop to Louisville.

The first ceremony after arriving in Louisville will be the enthronization of Bishop O'Donoghue in the Cathedral. After that the new prelate will be tendered a banquet by the clergy. On motion of the Rev. Father Charles P. Baffo it was decided to allow Father Cronin to name an executive committee of seven priests to arrange the details of the banquet. Father Cronin is to be ex-officio head of that committee. He promised to announce the members of the committee later.

Next Sunday the various pastors throughout the diocese will call a meeting of the laymen in their respective parishes to make fitting arrangements for the laity's part in giving Bishop O'Donoghue a grand old Kentucky welcome.

FRIENDS MOURN

Death of Noted Musician and Gracious Lady.

Few funerals at the Cathedral in recent years were as well attended as that of Mrs. Mary C. Warren, which took place on Friday morning of last week. Mrs. Warren was an accomplished musician and was held in high esteem in musical and Catholic social circles. She died in Chicago on Tuesday of last week. The remains were brought to Louisville and reposed at the home of her son, George E. Ruffner, 1312 Willow avenue, until the funeral.

Previous to her marriage the deceased was Miss Mary C. Chase. She was born in Dublin, Ireland, sixty-seven years ago, and was the daughter of John J. and Mary A. Chase. The family moved to America and settled in Louisville when the deceased was two years old. She inherited musical talent from both father and mother and became an accomplished musician. For a number of years she sang in the Cathedral choir and later was organist and director of St. Patrick's choir. Some years ago Mrs. Warren removed to New York, where she lived until her fatal illness. She went to Chicago for medical treatment and died in that city.

She is survived by the following children: William Ruffner, of New York; George E. Ruffner, of Louisville; John E. Ruffner, of Chicago; and Harry Warren, of New York, and by three brothers and one sister, all of this city. They are Prof. Joseph W. Chase, James P. and John M. Chase and Mrs. Teresa De Rose. After the mass the Rev. Father Rock preached an eloquent sermon and paid tribute to the mother's love for her boys and her devotion to her brothers and sister.

CHOSE DIRECTORS

And Catholic Woman's Club Will Elect Officers Monday.

The Catholic Woman's Club elected directors last Monday evening. They were: Mrs. Mary Cross, 1369 Third avenue; Mrs. Minnie Bosche, Thirty-fourth and High avenue; Mrs. Katie Shelley Newman, 430 West Oak; Mrs. Ella Netherland, 327 East Breckinridge; Mrs. J. H. Buschmeyer, Fifth and Chestnut; Mrs. August Ropke, 1432 Heppburn avenue, and Miss Katie Collins, 930 Sixth street. The full board is made up of fourteen members. Each year the terms of seven expire and new directors are chosen. The election of a President, Secretary and Treasurer will be held Monday afternoon. These officers at present are Miss Maggie Judge, President; Mrs. Mary Cross, Secretary, and Mrs. B. D. Mattingly, Treasurer.

The Catholic Woman's Club has reduced the indebtedness on its home from $18,000 to $9,000 in two years.

LITTLE DOING

Members of Division 1, A. O. H. At Lenten Services.

There was little doing at the meeting of Division 1, A. O. H., Tuesday night, the majority of the members attending the Lenten devotions held in their respective parishes. Those present, however, transacted all business of an urgent nature, and it was gratifying when announcement was made that the visiting committee had none on the sick list.

President Walsh told of the arrangements made for the Hibernian celebration at Macaulay's Theater on Palm Sunday and where the members might obtain tickets. He also impressed on those present the importance of being present at St. Patrick's church on Passion Sunday morning, when the members will receive holy communion in a body and thus do honor to their patron saint. The next meeting will be held March 13, and it is expected that every member will be present, as a number of important matters must then receive attention. State President George J. Butler will be present and will speak on the coming State convention and what the Ashland Hibernians are doing therefor.

NOTED PRIEST DIES.

The Rev. Father Patrick A. Walsh, for twenty-seven years rector of the Church of Our Lady of Mount Carmel at Astoria, Long Island, died at St. Vincent's Hospital after an operation for stomach trouble, last Saturday. Father Walsh was born in Ireland in 1850 and was ordained at St. John's College, Waterford, in 1873. In the same year he came to New York. He was assistant priest at St. Peter's church, Brooklyn for ten years and then went to Astoria, where he built a fine church and conducted a thriving parish. He is survived by two sisters, who live in Boston, and two brothers, who reside in Nebraska. He was considered one of the most forceful priests in the archdiocese of New York.

CATHOLIC SUMMER SCHOOL.

The session of the Catholic Summer School at Lake Champlain this year will begin on June 24 and will close on September 9.

ASQUITH

Changes Plans When Sees That Irish Party Is Against Him.

Redmond Held Whip Hand and Budget Is Promptly Switched.

Reform of House of Lords Will Come After the Easter Holidays.

LORD ROSEBERY MAKES MOVE

According to the new programme outlined by the Liberal Government the British House of Lords will soon be shorn of its powers, and this means that the entire British system of government will be revolutionized. The Irish party, led by Hon. John E. Redmond, still holds the whip hand, and home rule for Ireland seems certain, although it may be postponed for a short time. The denouement in the tangled situation came on Monday. The House of Commons was crowded by all the members of both houses, and the outcome of the day was awaited with anxiety.

The Conservatives were so eager to avoid another general election that they accepted Premier Asquith's programme without calling for a vote. According to the plan proposed by Premier Asquith, when the House of Commons meets after Easter resolutions will be presented to deprive the House of Lords of all authority over finances, and also of the power to veto the measures of the House of Commons. The Lords will be left only the functions of delay and discussion. If the plan succeeds the Liberal Government proposes next year to transform the House of Lords from a hereditary to a democratic body. Both Premier Asquith and Chancellor Lloyd-George announced that the Government staked its existence on the plan, and in the meantime the budget stands sidetracked. It is probable that when it is taken up it will combine a budget for two years, shorn of the features objectionable to the Irish members.

From now until the Easter adjournment the House of Commons will deal with resolutions enabling the Government to continue to borrow money and the appropriation bills for the army, navy and other departments. The Irish members declined to vote on the question, and nearly all of them will return to Ireland until the House of Lords question comes up after Easter. Chairman Redmond complained that Premier Asquith had not made it clear what he would do if the Lords hung up the resolutions. He declared that if Asquith would give a definite promise that in the event the Lords acted adversely that the Government would resign then the Irish would support his resolutions. Premier Asquith made no such promise, and the Irish members refused to vote.

The decision of the Commons to sidetrack the budget came suddenly and unexpectedly. As late as Saturday he had determined upon the contrary, even though he had been told that the Irish and Laborites would not support him. This meant defeat and a dissolution of Parliament. Some sudden change came over the spirit of his dreams, for the Premier did just the opposite of what was expected.

The question is what will the Lords do now? They had already agreed to pass the budget under protest. Now, it seems, they will not even have any say-so in the matter at all. The new plan of procedure practically eliminates the Lords from the map. It is a complete victory for the Irish Parliamentary party.

The general feeling among the Irish Nationalists was that veto legislation should precede financial. John Redmond made that perfectly plain and the Government leaders saw the Irish were in earnest. Now the Lords are uneasy and the leaders in the upper house of Parliament are about to take steps to reform there. Lord Rosebery has given notice that he would move on March 14 that the House of Lords resolve itself into a committee of the whole to consider the best means of reforming the existing organization so as to constitute itself a strong and efficient second chamber. This will in a measure take the wind from the Government's sails, but will by no means settle the question.

ROYAL WELCOMES

Await Ex-President Roosevelt Now En-Route Home.

Former President Theodore Roosevelt will be given a royal welcome when he reaches Rome. His Holiness Pope Pius X will give him a souvenir gold medal; King Victor Emanuel will give him a dinner, and Mayor Nathan will invite him to deliver at least one lecture in Rome.

Not to be outdone by Italy, Germany is preparing to entertain the ex-President of the United States. Berlin is all agog over his coming, although he will not reach that city until May 10. Emperor William will give him a royal welcome, and the authorities of the Berlin University are preparing to entertain him. France and England are none behind.

and he will be royally entertained in Paris and London. It is hardly probable that Mr. Roosevelt will visit Ireland, but at any rate the Irish members of Parliament will entertain him in London.

Mr. Roosevelt and his party arrived at Gondoriko, Sudan, Africa, on Saturday last, and is now en route down the River Nile. He expects to be joined by Mrs. Roosevelt and his younger children at Khartoum about March 15.

MADE MERRY

Frank Adams and Blide Surprised By Old Friends.

Members of Mackin Council surprised Frank Adams and his bride last Wednesday evening. Between forty and fifty members of the council assembled at the club house about 7:30 o'clock and then, headed by Charles Raily and George Simonis, the two remained at the Bachelors' Club they proceeded in a body to Mr. Adams' home, 2141 Rowan street. Neither Mr. nor Mrs. Adams knew of their coming. Without any ceremony every one of the uninvited but not unwelcome guests kissed the bride and shook hands with Mr. Adams.

Mr. Raily, in behalf of his colleagues, presented a handsome silver service set with a handsome rocker and a kitchen utensil. There were wash-bowls, boilers, kettles, buckets and all manner of things. Both Mr. and Mrs. Adams were taken by surprise, but both expressed their pleasure at the visit and thanks for the gifts. Frank said: "You know the ladies are great bargain hunters and very fond of remnants. I would not be surprised at any time to see that some members of the fair sex had walked away with Charles Raily or George Simonis."

Refreshments were served, various pranks were played and before long all kissed the bride a second time.

EXCELLENT MUSIC

To Be Provided by Hibernians Palm Sunday Night.

The County Board, A. O. H., has announced the programme for the musical and lecture to be given at Macaulay's Theater on the night of Palm Sunday, March 20. This musical and lecture will be the social observance of St. Patrick's day. Soprano solos will be sung by Mrs. T. Al Barrett and Miss Effie McDonald. R. H. Edelen will render a tenor solo, and John J. Maloney, a bass solo. The inimitable John J. Flynn will give a monologue and the musicals will close with a vocal quartette composed of Miss Imelda Shea, contralto; John J. Flynn, tenor; and David J. Maloney, bass.

After the musicals, James Walsh, who will preside during the evening, will introduce Judge Matt O'Doherty, who will deliver a lecture on the political revolution that is now going on in England and Ireland. This will close the evening.

The price of admission will be twenty-five and thirty-five cents, and tickets will be on sale at the following places: John M. Mulloy, 212 West Market street; Dr. Keane's drug store, Sixth and Oak streets; Thomas Keenan's, 1235 West Market street, and D. J. Coleman's, 1633 Portland avenue. Whatever funds accrue will be devoted to the cause of the Irish Parliamentary party.

RECENT DEATHS.

Mr. and Mrs. James Lane have the sympathy of many friends in their grief over the death of their eight-year-old son, Chester W. L. Lane, who died at the family residence, Wednesday morning. The funeral took place from St. John's church yesterday morning.

John H. Kinberger, thirty-six years old, died at his home, 1725 West Hill street, on Wednesday afternoon, and his funeral took place from St. George's church yesterday morning. Many friends of the deceased attended the requiem mass. He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Marie Sheppard previous to her marriage.

The funeral of Miss Margaret Minogue, who died at the residence of her brother-in-law, Ferguson Riley, 1204 West Broadway, on Saturday evening, took place from the Cathedral of the Assumption on Tuesday morning. The deceased is survived by her sister, Mrs. Ferguson Riley. She was a young lady of many charming graces and her death is greatly deplored.

The funeral of John O'Connell, who died at his home on the Taylor boulevard, took place Sunday afternoon from Holy Name church, Rev. Father O'Connor conducting the solemn obsequies. Deceased was one of the oldest and most highly esteemed residents of South Louisville and his death is deeply regretted. Two daughters, Mrs. Thomas Conway and Mrs. Clark, both of this city, survive him.

The remains of George B. Nadorff, who died at Edgewater, Col., last week, arrived in Louisville Monday, and the funeral took place from St. Anthony's church on Tuesday morning. The deceased was twenty-six years old and had lived in the West during the past six years. He is survived by his father, Henry Nadorff, Sr., of this city; one brother, Henry Nadorff, Jr., of Colorado, and four sisters, Mesdames A. Poppe, Carrie Diebold and Mamie Schneider, and Miss Philomena Nadorff. Many friends of the deceased attended the funeral.

NEARING

End of Lent and Lessons Grow More Solemn Each Day.

Passion Sunday Will Occur One Week From One Now Present.

Doctrines Taught by the Church Lead Up to Very Solemn Events.

FOLLOWERS OF ST. PAUL OF CROSS

Lent is nearing its close; tomorrow will be its fourth Sunday, and a week from tomorrow will be Passion Sunday, when the most solemn part of the holy season begins. On that day the images are veiled in purple, the penitential color, because on that day our Saviour Jesus Christ disappeared from the Temple, as appears in the gospel for that day. The Jews, who were incensed against Christ, threatened to put him to death, but he suddenly disappeared. The purple veils that cover the images from Passion Sunday are not removed until Holy Saturday.

Although the name Passion Sunday refers to the passion of Christ, the gospel of the passion is not read until Palm Sunday, one week later. The veiling is not only symbolical of the disappearance of Christ from the temple, but also symbolizes the spiritual darkness that had spread over the world before Christ arose from the dead. The ceremonies that follow during the week all lead up to the hosannas of Palm Sunday, his triumphal entry into Jerusalem, the institution of the Blessed Sacrament of the Eucharist, his betrayal by Judas, his agony in the Garden of Gethsemane, his presentation before Pilate, his scourging at the pillar, his journey to Mount Calvary, his death on the cross and his entombment.

Day by day the church leads us toward these events, and each day new thoughts are excited in our minds, new emotions in our hearts. Many saints have earned their crowns by worshipping at the foot of the crucifix and meditating upon the passion of our Saviour. Priests, Bishops, Cardinals and Popes have found wisdom at the foot of the cross. While every man, woman and child in the Catholic church is conversant with the story of that passion and depends more or less for spiritual welfare on its study, there is one religious order that has made it a rule of meditation for its members. They are the followers of St. Paul of the Cross, and are more frequently called Passionists.

Their founder was born near Genoa, not far from the birthplace of Christopher Columbus, in 1604. In 1720 he put on the habit of the order with the sanction of the Bishop of Alexandria. One year later St. Paul of the Cross went to Rome to obtain sanction for his proceedings. This sanction was delayed for many years, but at length he established his first monastery at Argentina, Italy, in 1737. Pope Benedict XIV. confirmed the rules of the society in 1741. St. Paul of the Cross died in Rome in 1775.

St. Paul's most cherished purpose was the conversion of England. The congregation has been growing not rapidly but steadily ever since. The Passionists now have houses in England, Ireland, Scotland, Bulgaria, Roumania and are flourishing in the United States. They were introduced into America by the Right Rev. Michael O'Connor, Bishop of Pittsburgh, in 1832. Later other houses were founded at Dunkirk, N. Y.; West Hoboken, N. J.; Baltimore, Md.; Cincinnati, Ohio; Louisville, Ky., and still later at St. Louis and Chicago.

The lives of the Passionists are very austere. They fast three days in every week besides Advent and Lent; they wear nothing on their feet save sandals; they rise at night to recite matins and indeed recite office in choir at all the canonical hours. Their time is divided between contemplation and action. Besides making the vows of poverty, chastity and obedience, they take a fourth to keep alive in the hearts of the faithful the passion and death of our Lord.

UNIMPORTANT

Mackin Council Had Little Business Monday Night.

For the first time in many months Mackin Council held a meeting this week at which there was no business of importance. President John Kenney is so directing affairs that there is no congestion or postponement of action, and this policy pleases the members. There was a good attendance, and after electing two new members the rival teams presented four more applications. The council will soon set a date for the initiation, when it is expected that a class of fifty will receive the degrees.

Charles Raily reported that splendid progress was being made by the company selected to give Mackin's opera, "Among the Stars," next May. It was also announced that the committee in charge of the booth for St. Cecilia's bazaar had their arrangements completed and would be surprised if they did not lead the other societies. Three members were reported on the sick list, but none were in a serious condition.

The refurbishing of the club house has begun, new chairs for the parlors having been received. They are not only handsome but substantial, and if the balance of the furnishings are of the same standard Mackin Council will have one of the best and most perfectly equipped club houses for young men to be found in the country.

TRAPPIST MONKS

Have Three Flourishing Houses in Dominion of Canada.

The Trappist monks have three settlements in Canada, one at Tracadie, Nova Scotia; another in the wilds of Northern Quebec, near the Lake St. John district, and another on the banks of the Ottawa river, not far from Montreal. One of the most interesting of the monasteries is that near the village of Oka, on the Ottawa river. The Trappist is a farmer as well as a priest, and the Oka farm of 800 acres is one of the best tilled in that part of Canada. All kinds of grain are grown, an excellent vegetable garden is maintained and a large orchard and vineyard add picturesque to the rural scene. But the Trappist is a stock grower as well as an agriculturist. There are few finer thoroughbred stocks than the Percheron stallions and huge bulls kept there. The order owns at Oka several hundred cows, three hundred sheep and thirty-five horses.

Adjoining the barn is the dairy, where a fancy cheese is produced that has a high reputation in the Montreal market, as have the claret and wines produced from the vineyards.

MANY MATTERS

Disposed of at Meeting of Ladies' Auxillary, A. O. H.

Pleasant weather than we have enjoyed for several months brought a big crowd to the meeting of the Ladies' Auxillary, A. O. H., on Wednesday evening. Miss Rose Sweeney occupied the chair, and all the officers were present. One new member was admitted and four applications were received. Miss Mary Corcoran made an excellent address on Robert Emmet and recalled the fact that March 4 would be the anniversary of his birth.

Among the members reported ill were Mrs. Dave O'Connell and Miss Emma Fisher. It was announced that the paraphernalia for the degree team had been ordered and would arrive in time for the next initiation, which will be held shortly after Easter. A eucure and dance will be given under the auspices of the degree team on the second Monday after Easter. The proceeds will be added to the aid fund of the auxillary.

Miss Katie Nolan has made such a hit as a reader of Irish history that the President, Miss Sweeney, has appointed her official reader for the auxillary. The members were reminded that the religious celebration of St. Patrick's day would take place at St. Patrick's church on Passion Sunday, March 13. All the ladies promised to attend the mass and to receive holy communion on that day.

VALOROUS SOLDIER

Passes Away Full of Years and Very Highly Honored.

Irish-Americans have lost another hero by the death of St. Clair A. Mulholland, who died at his home in Philadelphia after a brief illness last week. He had been the United States Pension Agent in Philadelphia since 1894. Gen. Mulholland was seventy-one years old and served in the Federal army throughout the civil war. In his youth he joined the Pennsylvania militia and when the civil war broke out he was engaged in recruiting the 116th Volunteers, and with them went to the front as Lieutenant Colonel.

Joining Gen. Meagher's Irish Brigade in the Army of the Potomac, he soon had opportunity to show his bravery when, at the battle of Chancellorsville, Col. Heenan was disabled by a shell. The twenty-three-year-old Lieutenant Colonel held the command valiantly until he was himself wounded. At Gettysburg he led his troops and throughout the Wilderness campaign. In 1895 Congress granted him a medal of honor for his valor at Chancellorsville.

ANNUAL CANDY PULLING.

The ladies of the Sacred Heart parish will give a candy pulling for the benefit of the parochial school on the afternoon and evening of Thursday, March 17. The entertainment will be given in the school hall, Seventeenth and Broadway. Tickets entitling the holder to candy are being sold for ten cents. This candy pulling has become an annual feature in Sacred Heart parish and each entertainment proves enjoyable.

TOURING THE WEST.

Capt. John B. Murphy, of Jeffersonville, left this week for a tour of California and the West. He spent Tuesday in New Orleans and while there was entertained by Dr. Gaudin, the Supreme President of the Catholic Knights of America. Capt. Murphy expects to visit the larger cities of California, Colorado and Utah before returning home.

SENATE

Follows House of Representatives in Passing the Ripper Bill.

Every Taxpayer Ought to Watch General Council on the University.

Notorious Negro Held to Grand Jury Needs Police Attention.

OUT WITH ALL REPUBLICANS

The much mooted ripper bill passed the State Senate this week by the decisive vote of twenty-one to two. The vote was taken after a strenuous session of the upper house of the Kentucky Legislature, and after the Republican members were beaten to a standstill. The ripper bill has now passed both houses, but it will hardly receive the signature of the Governor.

The ripper bill is an act to oust Clayton Blakey from the City Attorney's office and to elect all his assistants in that office. When the bill becomes a law, even though it may have to be passed over the Governor's veto, Mayor Head will be given the privilege of naming his own choice as legal adviser for the city.

The appointment of an attorney in perfect accord with the city administration is absolutely necessary. Mr. Blakey is a Republican. He went into office under the regime of Mayor Grinstead, and attorneys in a position to know say that he has lost more suits for damages against the city than any City Attorney of Louisville.

The Louisville Evening Post and the Louisville Herald are opposing the bill and contending that Mr. Blakey should not be removed. Neither of those journals took any exception when the previous administration took steps to remove the City License Inspectors because they were Democrats. The Republicans have resorted to many and devious tactics in order to defeat the ripper bill, and in desperation on Wednesday Lieut. Gov. Cox arbitrarily declared the State Senate adjourned after two appeals from his decisions had been sustained. This Republican ex-officio Chairman of the Senate went so far as to say that the bill had not been regularly printed. Senator Herman D. Newcomb proved the falsity of this contention by producing the receipt for the bill. Then the Republicans bolted the chamber and the twenty-six Democrats passed the bill regularly before adjournment.

Speaking of removals, it is about time the present city administration removes every Republican policeman, fireman and employee. The Republican administration had no such hesitation, and Mayor Head and his boards should show no leniency. Out with the enemy and in with your friends!

There is another matter that needs the careful attention and earnest thought of every taxpayer in Louisville. What will you advise the General Council to do toward presenting a fund to the University of Louisville? The officials of that corporation asked for $25,000, but finally reduced their request to $10,000. Will they get it? They may, but the school not.

The University of Louisville is a private institution. Every student must pay and pay well for his tuition. It is officered by men of business genius as well as by men filled with medical and legal lore. Some say the university will be a benefit to the commercial interests of the city. Is that so? Then let the commercial interests pay the price. "Those who dance must pay the piper," is an old Irish adage and it fits in well in this case.

During the past few days Judge Boldrick, of the Police Court, has held Tom Cole, a negro and the proprietor of a notorious negro saloon and gambling den on Walnut street, near Ninth. The two organs of the Republican party have espoused his cause and insist that he is being persecuted. Cole is a notorious offender and a defier of the law. He was a particular pet of the Grinstead administration and insulted patrolmen, Sergeants, Lieutenants and Captains. He wielded influence enough to cause the removal of several able officers from the district in which he resides and conducts his business, and has threatened to make other officers do unmentionable things in case they were molested. This threat alone ought to put him out of business.

Walnut street is getting worse and worse as a resort of negro thugs and crooks. No white woman is safe on West Walnut street for several squares west from Seventh. Chief Lindsey and every man on the police force ought to bend every effort to break up Cole's nefarious dive.

NEW ENGLAND VISITOR.

Patrick M. Kelly, of Salem, Mass., has been the guest here of his sister, Mrs. Charles Reising, of Twelfth and Market streets. A short time ago Mr. Kelly's daughter, Miss Mary Kelly, became the bride of Edward McLone, a young man of prominence in Lawrence, Mass. Mr. Kelly took advantage of the occasion and came to Louisville to visit his sister. He has made many warm friends during his visit.

WELCOME OUR BISHOP.

The Right Rev. Bishop O'Donoghue will come to Louisville to take formal possession of his see on March 30. The clergy of the diocese have taken steps to give him a welcome. Now it is time that the laymen were getting busy. The various pastors will notify their respective flocks as to the part they are expected to play. Meetings of the laymen should be held in every parish and a general meeting follow. The wishes of the Right Rev. Bishop, the Very Rev. Administrator Father Cronin and the various pastors should be heard and heeded.

What the laymen will be advised to do is not yet known, but rich and poor ought to act together to give the new prelate a real Kentucky welcome. If it is decided to have the laymen meet the Bishop at the railroad station, then the demonstration ought to be made a grand one. If every Catholic man and boy in the diocese would take part in such a parade the effect would be imposing and lasting. It would show our brethren of separated creeds that the Catholics love and honor their ecclesiastical superiors.

Welcome Bishop O'Donoghue to the cradle of Catholicity in the West. Make him feel at home in the diocese that has been presided over by a Flagel, a Spalding and a McCloskey. Incite him to greater zeal so that are long Louisville will be elevated to the dignity of an archdiocese.

FOOLISH PENSIONS.

The present session of the Kentucky Legislature has not given evidence either of an abundance of energy or wisdom. One delay has followed another on important legislation, but the solons appear to get busy on trivial, or more properly speaking, idiotic things. For instance, the daily papers announced on Thursday in their dispatches from Frankfort that speeches were made in favor of a bill to pension Louisville school teachers.

The bill provides that old school teachers who have reached the age of fifty-five years, and have been in the service of the city schools for twenty-five years, shall be entitled to a pension. To raise the money it is proposed to tax the property owners one cent on the $100 valuation. The pension fund will cost $300,000 annually.

A teacher fifty-five years old and receiving the salary paid them in Louisville for twenty-five years ought to be able to care for themselves.

Why pension school teachers? Why not pension shop girls, barbers, bakers and bricklayers? Why not establish a home for feeble-minded legislators? That would not cost so much. The bill was passed by a vote of sixty-one to three.

PREACHERS AS HOUSEKEEPERS.

The following telegram from Chicago under date of March 1 is interesting:

"Chicago clergymen of many denominations swept, dusted, made beds, cooked and cleared up after lunch today, that their wives might devote their time to the fight against the saloons. The women met at noon at Willard Hall and formed an organization that from now until election day will be active in the campaign for local option. The agreement of the clergymen to do the housework for one day and relieve their wives from domestic cares came as a result of an appeal yesterday by Miss Lucy Page Gaston, of the Anti-Cigarette League, and Mrs. Emily Hill, President of the Cook County W. C. T. U. These women formed a committee which attended meetings of the ministers of all the Protestant denominations and asked the clergymen to enlist the aid of their wives against the liquor traffic."

This ought to cure many of the women of the suffragette habit. How many wives of preachers returned home that night to find the supper burned and the house topsy turvy? Let the preachers mind the pulpits and their wives the homes.

THE NEWSPAPER.

Of all men the newspaper men who are to select from the world's doings and the community's doings that with which the public is to be made familiar needs to be wise and judicious, and to lay aside his dislikes and clear himself of all malice. If the newspaper which you take is to decide what information concerning the doings, good and bad, in the world and in the community, you and your family are to be made familiar with, have you not also a duty as to the kind of a newspaper you take—whether it be one that parades and patronizes vice and crime, and sneers at goodness and decency, or one that does the reverse of this? Does it make a difference whether you admit, daily or weekly, to your household, a paper which has regard for truthfulness and fairness, or one which will lie and slander at any time to suit its purpose?

To the newspapers are committed great responsibilities, and of it there must be corresponding demand. The responsibility of the paper, of those who make it and give it its character, is great and this responsibility ought to be exercised under the power and guidance of noble principle. But the paper and the man who make it have not the only responsibility. They who select the paper which they will take and patronize have a responsibility for their selection. He who supports a paper in any way is responsible in a measure for the character of that paper. This community is responsible for the kind of papers which it encourages and supports; and especially is there a responsibility as to the character of the paper admitted to the home—a responsibility for admitting it. There is no place where a man should more carefully and firmly exercise his moral and Christian principle than in the selection of his paper.

TIME TO GET BUSY.

United States Congress should either wake up or adjourn. It has been in session more than two months now, and not one important piece of legislation has passed either house. A short time ago Speaker Cannon called on the Sergeant-at-Arms to bring in a sufficient number of members to form a quorum in the House of Representatives. Yet 483 members continue to draw salaries at $625 a month.

The woman of no family takes it upon herself to become a society shiner, says the Catholic Union and Times, which would be all right were it not for the fact that many mothers attempt to imitate her, to the utter demoralization of her offspring. The Kentucky Legislature must have had this fact in mind when it called upon the Suffragettes to bring along their babies.

The New York Herald says there is some curiosity to know how James Stark, of Boston, will occupy his time March 17, when the evacuation of that city by the British is being celebrated. Stark is the man who makes light of the achievements of American patriots. Curiosity as to what he will do on that occasion is pardonable.

Mayor W. O. Head is to be commended for securing a new contract for electric lighting of the city's streets. According to the terms of a contract closed this week the city will save $17,500 per annum.

William Jennings Bryan's declaration that he neither desires nor expects another nomination for the Presidency comes rather late. The people care little and will not have him again.

Let gentleness and charity be your watchwords! Do not tell all the mean things you know concerning others. It will sour your disposition sooner or later.

Be careful of your children. The boy or girl who travels with evil companions is sure to become contaminated.

SUCCEDED TO INJURIES.

Mrs. John J. Tully, one of the best known matrons in Louisville Catholic circles and one of the hardest workers in the Cathedral parish, died at home of her daughter, Mrs. Peter J. O'Hare, 733 East Oak street, early Thursday morning. Her funeral will take place from the Cathedral at 9 o'clock this morning. Mrs. Tully had been in a critical condition for several days and her death was not unexpected.

While viewing the Shriners' parade last summer, Mrs. Tully was struck on the head by a chair that fell from the third story of a building on Main street. She never recovered from the injuries received that night. Previous to her marriage she was Miss Anna Welch. She is survived by her husband, John J. Tully, the old lifesaver, and several children. Her death is mourned by the entire community.

CATHEDRAL WALLS.

TO J. P. W.

Dear house of God, within thy sacred walls
I find succor from world cares and strife;
Thy sweet solemnity my soul enraptures,
Helps me forget the bitterness in life.
I kneel a man in prayer, yet pray like child
The prayer my mother taught long years ago,
And o'er me steals a benediction mild
Like mother gives to well-loved, wayward child.

The faith of old comes creeping back to me—
The song, the kiss, the prayer at mother's knee—
And once again, I am a little boy
Knowing naught of the sorrowing alloy
That like unbidden guest comes to the feast
And makes itself a part of every joy;
Now comes remorse, repentance, bitter tears,
I plead "dear God, forgive the mis-spent years."

CONFEDERATE VETERAN DEAD.

Death resulted from injuries received when he was partially asphyxiated five months ago. The deceased was born in the County Armagh, Ireland, sixty-seven years ago. He came to America when quite a young man and joined the Confederate army as a member of the Louisiana Cavalry and served with credit and distinction throughout the war. When the struggle was over he removed to Louisville and made his home here. For many years he had been a member of St. Patrick's church. He is survived by his wife and four daughters. Mrs. James T. Van Arsdale, of Birmingham, Ala.; Mrs. Joseph Terrell, Mrs. Edward Holleran and Miss Mary Brannigan, all of this city. Mr. Brannigan was esteemed by all who knew him.

FOR WOMAN'S EYE.

Heels are getting higher, toes narrower.

Necklaces after antique styles are much used for trimming gowns.

Belts appear everywhere and on everything that has a waist line.

Velvet ribbons and black feathers trim some of the earliest Tuscan hats.

Hats of the moment include Tuscan straws with wide cavalier brims, all flower trimmed.

Embroidery that looks like rat tail braid is being employed quite effectively on linen tailor makes.

Some of the prettiest of the French cotton grenadines come in white with ribbon stripes of colors.

The lingerie gown is promised a great vogue, and this of course means a great vogue for embroidery.

Spring coats are lined with silk the same shade as the cloth, the same as has been done the last two winters.

The new silk and cotton bengaline, supple and in a wide range of colors, is quite a favorite for house gowns.

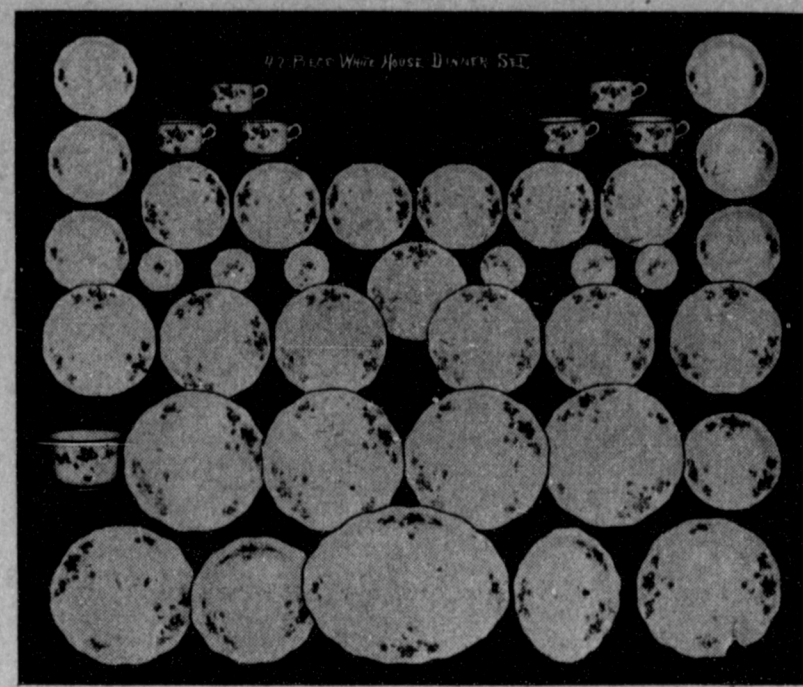

A novelty in trimming for lingerie frocks is a tiny cotton fringe, quite like that used on bedroom curtains and covers.

Fascinating dress stuffs, offered for summer, include colored batistes in delicate shades, rich in exquisite eyelet embroidery.

Drapery is still a commanding feature. It is quite the thing to wear something loose, that may be called a wrap, though it is more an evolution of the scarf.

Pique in a variety of colors, embroidered and dotted, promises to be popular for children's dresses. These are ornamented with linen or embroidered buttons.

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General
News Notes.

New Albany Hibernians will have no formal celebration this year on March 17.

Five more divisions, four in Brooklyn and one in Utica, have made nice contributions to the Irish national fund.

Rev. Father Kerwin, rector of St. Mary's Cathedral at Galveston, will be the orator for the Hibernians St. Patrick's day celebration at Waco.

Only one meeting next week, but the one following will be of much interest to all members. The programmes for summer work will then be outlined.

Milwaukee Hibernians had a fitting celebration of Robert Emmet's birthday, the feature of which was the able address of Hon. J. W. Kenney, of Indianapolis.

Division 3 will meet Monday night. President Sullivan and Secretary Hession urge all members to attend this session. A number of applications will be reported.

Our Ladies' Auxiliary degree team will present a lovely appearance in the new robes they will don soon after Easter. The measurements were taken last week.

Why not arrange a Hibernian reception for our new Bishop? He is a friend of the order. This is a matter worthy the attention of the State and county officers.

It was tipped this week that a surprise was in store for President Con Pond at the meeting of Division 2 last night. This column will tell all about it in the next issue.

Members of Division 4 all gave the glad hand to John Henahan when he appeared at the meeting Monday night. John is one of the old guard whose services are always at the disposal of his division.

Members are urged to secure their seats for the musical and lecture on March 20. They are now on sale, and never has the order given an entertainment for a worthier cause or at a more reasonable price.

The Ladies Auxiliary will leave nothing undone for the eucure and dance they will give after Easter for their relief fund. During the past winter this organization has been very generous in its contributions to charitable causes.

Members of the order and of the Knights of Columbus Council at Rome, N. Y., paid a joint visit to the city of the Rev. Father Leo V. White in that city last week. The young priest was only twenty-six years old, but was greatly beloved by the community in which he lived.

At Syracuse, N. Y., the County Board has indorsed by unanimous vote the protest in Congress of Representative Michael E. Driscoll against the proposed memorial to Commodore John Barry, and also started a crusade against ridiculous St. Patrick's day post cards.

Jeffersonville Hibernians miss genial John B. Murphy, who is on his way to the Pacific coast. Commissioner Murphy will visit the divisions in all the big Western cities, and the recital of his experiences will be an interesting feature at local meetings after his return.

Every Hibernian in Louisville should be in line at St. Patrick's church on Sunday, March 15, when the four divisions and auxiliary will receive holy communion. With the right attendance high honor will be done the patron saint of this grand old order, and Catholics in general will be edified with the sight presented.

VENERABLE LADY AT REST.

The newspaper fraternity of Louisville have extended their sympathy to Col. R. W. Brown, managing editor of the Louisville Times, whose venerable mother died at the home of her son, Joseph A. Brown, at Nashville, Tenn., on Thursday evening of last week. She had been ill only one week and death resulted from complications. The remains were laid to rest in the family lot at Russellville on Saturday. Two sons survive, Col. R. W. Brown, of Louisville, and Joseph A. Brown, of Nashville. Mrs. Brown was eighty-two years old and was a native of Allegheny, Pa.

MOTION PICTURES.

The Casino, Princess and Columbia motion picture houses continue their hold upon the public, being crowded daily from the start to the closing hour. Pictures shown in these houses are not the slide views so much used, but are motion pictures taken of the events they illustrate by the famous Pathe Freres.

BUSY ARCHBISHOP.

His Grace the Most Rev. Henry Moeller, Archbishop of Cincinnati, expects to sail from New York for Rome on April 19. From now until then he will be busy making visitations and confirming classes in various parts of his archdiocese. He will not leave Cincinnati until April 17.

CATHOLICS FOR LIBRARY.

The Catholics of Sacramento, Cal., have taken steps looking to the establishment of a public library. Bishop Grace has donated 150 volumes of valuable standard works in various departments of literature as a nucleus of the future collection.

OLD BOYS' CLUB DANCE.

The Old Boys' Club, an organization of well known young men, have arranged to give a ball at Liederkranz Hall on Monday evening, April 4. A good union band will be in attendance. Tickets are being sold at twenty-five cents each.

TRINITY COUNCIL

Held Quite an Interesting Meeting Last Monday Night.

Trinity Council held a well attended meeting, and it proved to be the most interesting session under the new administration. All the officers were present. A committee was appointed to arrange for a new side walk. The condition of Val Ramp, who was reported ill on January 6, was reported unchanged. The House Committee reported that the new shower baths had been installed, and this announcement was hailed with delight.

The special committee appointed to arrange for an entertainment on March 30 reported progress and announced that arrangements had been made for eucure, lotto and dancing. This entertainment will be held both afternoon and night.

The Trinity Aid Society reported a strong financial foundation and that all obligations were being paid promptly. J. C. Kirchdorfer, who is at the head of the Trinity Aid Society, invited every member of the council to subscribe for stock. It pays 4 per cent. per annum and the stock is redeemable on demand. The stock can be paid for in installments.

will be seen in his latest and best comedy, "Inconstant George," a play in which he has scored his most successful hit. Mr. Drew will be supported by his New York company.

During the last half of the week Miss Elgie Bowen, in "The Love Cure," will be the attraction with the usual Saturday matinee.

READINGS

From Shakespeare and Dante That Were of Unusual Merit.

Nuns and Pupils of St. Catherine's Academy Enjoyed Treat.

Girls Repay Lecturer With a Pleading Musical Programme.

MANY CHARACTERS PORTRAYED

In the auditorium of St. Catherine's Academy at Springfield, Ky., on February 19 and 20, the Dominican Sisters and their pupils had the privilege of spending several pleasant hours with Shakespeare and Dante as they were interpreted by C. E. Griffith. The eloquence of the reader made a distinct impression on all. He made both Sisters and pupils feel the various emotions of the characters he was portraying and figuratively brought to life the men and women created by Shakespeare and Dante.

Mr. Griffith's first interpretation was that of "Hamlet," the melancholy Prince. With this Danish noble he mused, reasoned, soliloquized and wailed for his terrible revenge. "Macbeth" came next, and the reader graphically recited the story of that Scottish Thane, whose wife's ambition caused him to commit so many murders. How clearly did he depict Lady Macbeth in the somnambulistic scene, as she rubbed her hands trying to wash off the stains of blood and crying out that the "multitudinous seas incarnadine" would not make them white.

All appreciated, too, Mr. Griffith's wonderful rendition of passages from Dante's "Inferno." He groaned with the lost in hades; sang with the hopeful in purgatory, and praised with the triumphant in heaven. Mr. Griffith also lectured on "Literature and Art." This feature was sound, interesting and instructive. He said that authors that in the field of literature there was much that is poisonous, and at the same time much that was good. Literature is like a garden—weeds spring up with the flowers. The weeds must be removed to make the flowers appear becomingly. Literature, said Mr. Griffith, must be interpreted according to the standard of one ideal, and that ideal is our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

On the evening of February 20 the pupils of the academy expressed their gratitude to Mr. Griffith by entertaining him with a musical and literary programme. The orchestra of young ladies opened the evening with a selected overture. This was followed by a chorus, "How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings." Miss G. Randall gave a piano solo, Miss P. Barber a vocal solo, and Miss A. Prather a cornet solo. "To the Evening Star" was rendered by Misses P. Barber, M. Barber, M. Corran and M. Beinkemper. Miss M. Barber followed with a vocal solo. Miss M. Malloney came next with the presentation of a pennant to Mr. Griffith and the presentation address was made by Miss E. Talbot. The evening closed with the grand chorus, "My Obedience to You, O St. Catherine of Siena's is one of the oldest educational institutions in Kentucky. It has nurtured and educated many of the best women of this and of many other States. That part of Louisville known as Limerick has furnished the Dominican community with many of its finest daughters, and the present Mother Superior, Sister Mary Aquin, was a Limerick girl. She was known in the world as Miss Johanna Halloran. Another member of the community who is dear to many Louisville people is the venerable Sister Ann. She taught the boys and girls of St. Louis Bertrand's parish more than forty years ago. She seems as alert now as she was in the early days, and all wish her many more years of usefulness and grace.

DEATH OF MRS. VAN DA GRIFT.

The funeral of Mrs. Victoria Van Da Grift, widow of John Van Da Grift, who died at the family residence, 2721 West Jefferson street, on Thursday morning of last week, took place from St. Charles Borromeo's church on Saturday. The high mass of requiem was celebrated by the Rev. Father Charles P. Raffo, who also paid a touching tribute to the life of the deceased. One son survives her, William J. Van Da Grift, of the Van Da Grift Auto Company. Mrs. Van Da Grift was a native of Trimble county, but had lived in Louisville since early girlhood. The deceased was noted for her many works of charity. She had been in ill health for several months, but bore her sufferings with Christian fortitude. Her son has the sympathy of many friends in his bereavement.

Four railroads and their respective telegraph operators. The men want better wages and shorter hours. The other arbitrators are George H. Grace, Assistant to the General Manager of the Illinois Central railroad, and J. J. Dermody, Vice President of the Railway Telegraphers' Union. Father Kirby was chosen as the third arbitrator by Chairman Knapp, of the Interstate Commerce Commission, and Dr. Charles P. Neill, Commissioner of Labor. Both sides are certain to receive a square deal from Father Kirby. The arbitrators will probably meet in Cincinnati.

FACTS ABOUT MARCH.

The entire month of March is dedicated to St. Joseph. March 17 is St. Patrick's day and March 19 is St. Joseph's day. March 13 is Passion Sunday. March 20 is Palm Sunday. March 25 is Good Friday. March 27 is Easter Sunday. Although the church grants its children from the first Sunday in Lent until Trinity Sunday to make their Easter duty, it is well to take advantage of the season and approach the holy sacrament of the altar at Easter time.

MASONIC THEATER.

Viola Allen in "The White Sister," by F. Marion Crawford, in which she has made a phenomenal success this season, comes to the Masonic Theater.

VIOLA ALLEN.

ter for a three-days' engagement, commencing March 10, with Saturday matinee. Supporting the star are William Farnum, a brother of Dustin Farnum, and James O'Neill, of Monte Cristo fame. The role taken by Miss Allen is that of Sister Giovanni, who has taken the vow while she was under the impression that her lover had been killed in a war in a foreign country. He turns up alive, however, and then begins a fight between love and devotion to the church.

DIVERGENT

Methods Pursued by Paulists and Methodists in Conversions.

Pope Pius X. Puts Finishing Touches to a Stale Controversy.

Catholic Missionaries at Pains to Abstain From Denunciation.

PRESENT DOCTRINE EARNESTLY

There is a widely divergent method between the Paulists' work in America and that of the Methodists in Italy. The Holy Father has happily set at rest all controversy on this point. In his now famous letter in which he commends the Apostolic Mission House and its methods he says: "Then again it pleases us that the missionaries show no bitterness in their preaching, and their only purpose is a true and complete exposition of Catholic doctrine; which method more easily opens the door of the true faith to non-Catholics. For great is the power of truth and nothing more is required to make men love it than to know it intimately."

One of the Methodist Bishops has caused some controversy by comparing the two. He declared that the Methodists were doing in the city of Rome what the Paulists by their missions to non-Catholics were doing in the United States. The methods of the two differ as night differs from day. In the mission work for non-Catholics the sentiment that dominates is, "We leave all other churches alone. We prove our own." The word of denunciation for other churches is strictly forbidden. The note of antagonism or attack on the religious belief of others is obnoxious. So strictly is this principle affirmed that missionaries who have been given to this method have been debarred from the movement.

If the Paulists or any other missionaries should attempt to use bribery to lure the convert into the fold just to show up numbers, they would deserve and receive the condemnation of the authorities. If any attempts were made even to minimize doctrines or to present the church in a guile other than she is—much more if using hypocrisy were resorted to—the whole movement would be put under the ban. But the contrary is just the case. When the missionaries associated with the Apostolic Mission House come into a town they announce the mission in a dignified manner. They extend invitations to the non-Catholics to be the guests of the Catholics in their church. They from the platform publicly answer all queries concerning Catholic teaching that are dropped into the question box. They promise that there will be no abuse and no controversy.

They present to the audience an attractive exposition of Catholic teaching, and if they who are convinced of the truth of the church ask to be received into the church, it is only done after due deliberation and when assurance of upright motives is given. Even then the would-be converts are held off until they learn the catechism and appreciate fully the magnitude of the step they are taking.

The distinction between the two systems is just the difference between the dignified physician who never advertises and the quack doctor who forces his nostrum on one by lies and misrepresentations. Convert making is an honorable avocation, and the greatest men in the world, like St. Paul, were the greatest convert makers, but a great work may be hindered and degraded by the methods in which it is carried out.

BELOVED MATHON DEAD.

The funeral of Mrs. Theresa Doemeka, who died at the residence of her son-in-law, Thomas Keenan, Jr., 115 South Third street, on Friday afternoon of last week, took place from St. Columba's church on Monday morning, and was well attended by her large circle of acquaintances. She had been ill six weeks and her death was unexpected. The deceased was of Jeffersonville. Besides her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Keenan, she is survived by four brothers, Andrew Doemeka, of Jeffersonville; George Doemeka, of Camden, Ark.; and Louis and Herman Doemeka, of Louisville. Mrs. Doemeka was a lady of many charming traits and her family has the sympathy of a wide circle of friends.

INFELD UNDECIDED.

Next week will witness the final round-up of the entire Louisville baseball team and a chance for the fans to get busy comparing the lineup with that of last season. Right now the Colonels have the best outfield in the association and are well supplied with pitchers and backstops, but the infield line-up still seems to be a stumbling block, nothing decisive having been arrived at in the matter of first and second base. If Del Howard would come to terms the matter could be solved by using the following: Howard first base, Neal second base, Moriarty shortstop and Sullivan at third base. The majority of fans seem to think that Soffel, Callahan and Olsen are too light for the team just now.

PRESENT FOR POPE.

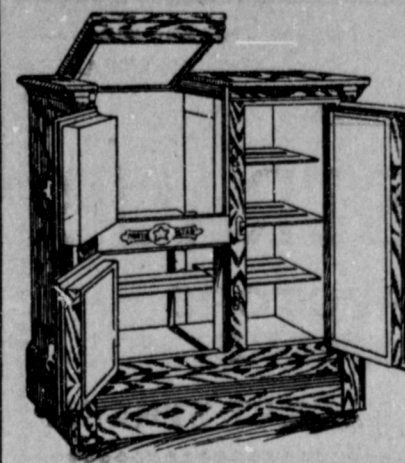

Pope Pius X. has received in private audience the learned seismologist, Rev. Father Anselmi, O. F. M., who presented His Holiness with a new type of earthquake Warner invented by himself. This instrument gives warnings of an approaching earthquake, and is based on the theory that every displacement of the earth's crust is preceded by an electro-magnetic disturbance.
